The End is Where We Begin

A Letter from the Editors:

What a year. Grafton High School as we know it may be ending... We are moving on and those that aren't seniors will be going to the new school. We want everyone to remember: it isn't the building that makes our memories, it's the people. Which is why the theme of this year's book is "The Faces of Us."

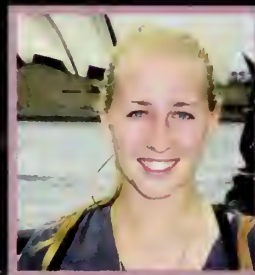

We tried to include everyone because you are all part of what makes us us.

When people look back on the old building, they will think of us: the last classes.

It has certainly been a long road. A lot of things have changed and there are still many more changes to come. I'd like to think we've all grown at least a little these past four years. We made it to the end, but it's just the beginning. I'll remember you all, miss some, and keep few in my heart.

Don't waste your life worrying about the things we cannot change. Sometimes it is best to let things go than to stress about them. Life is much more enjoyable if you don't let things bother you. Your life is going to move on whether you want it to or not, it's up to you if you move along with it. As Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "Life is the living, not the have lived." Started the Agricultural commission in the town of Grafton, in 2010 at age of 16.

Served as an advisory member of agricultural commission 2010 ~ 2011.

Vice chairmen of agricultural commission 2012. Many call me old fashioned but I am proud to be an American farmer, an advocate for a struggling culture one that our country was based off of, and a teenage girl who has a dream that one day I won't have to do what I do and that I won't feel so alone doing what I do.

"I couldn't be happier to be here in Grafton. It's one thing to be a resident. I thought I knew Grafton just from the soccer fields and football fields, what have you. I've quickly found out that I didn't, and every day that I meet more and more people I'm more impressed with all the different people and the town itself. I couldn't feel luckier than to be here."

Homecoming:

A Week to Remember

Homecoming is a week at Grafton High School that no student will ever forget.

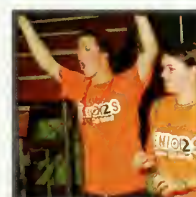

The week is filled with events where even the most divided classes can come together in an effort to win.

Seniors won every single day during the week.

When it came down to the class competitions on Class Color Day the Juniors made a strong effort, but they were simply no match for the determined Seniors.

Seniors took the Victory with a huge lead. The curse of the orange had been broken.

I dare you to try and out-do the class of one-two.

THERE'S NO BETTER CLASS OUT THERE.
DON'T MESS WITH THE BEST.

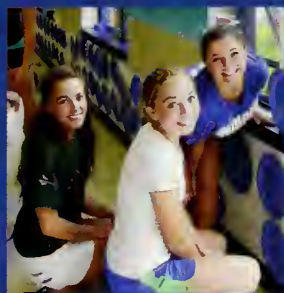

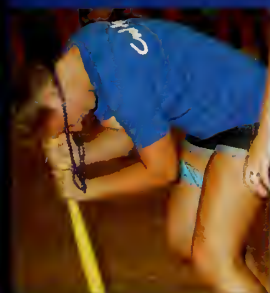

WHAT A WAY TO GO OUT. THE JUNIORS WENT INTO THE COMPETITION THINKING THEY HAD IT ALL. BUT THE SENIORS WERE THERE TO SHOW THEM WHAT WAS UP. THEY DOMINATED AND WON THE LAST CLASS COMPETITIONS THE SCHOOL WOULD EVER HAVE FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS. 2012; GOING OUT WITH A BANG.

Graduation

"Up until now everything has been familiar to us, but we're moving on to a new chapter in our lives. We're all about to prove that all the years we've spent together at this school haven't been a waste, that they haven't been for nothing. Our teachers have helped us but now it's time to do it on our own. We are about to prove ourselves not only to our parents, not only to our teachers and our friends, but to ourselves."

-Class President, Lindsay Carroll

"Our lives were tightly intertwined for the longest time but they will unravel at breathtaking speed, because time moves fast. And in a couple of moments, we will all be alumni of Grafton High School. Things come and go. Things like the Super Park. It's gone now, but its hard wooden beams are still cemented in our minds. There are things and people that will stick with us and whether we expected it or not, some of these things and people came from Grafton."

-Speaker, Audrey Enman

"We're the last class to decorate the halls of our Grafton High, bright orange never looked so good. We're the last class to flaunt our seniority in front of the school at 6:30 a.m. And we're the last class to sprint off the old, creaky bleachers in the gym as we jumped up and down to share a victory."

The Senior Class: 2012

Maddy Giese

Maddy when we think of you we think of love, light and inner strength. We couldn't be more proud or honored to be called your parents.

One of our very favorite things about you is the way you celebrate your life. You are hard working and always up for an adventure.

Although we will miss you terribly next year we know you will handle this next chapter of your life with the competence and enthusiasm that makes you, you. We are so thrilled for you.

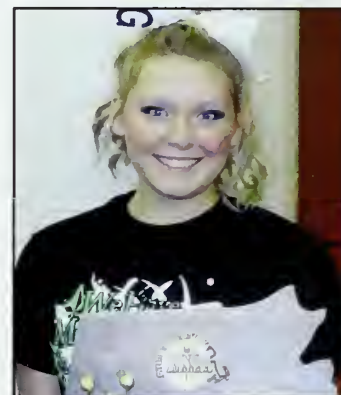

With tremendous love and pride,
Mom and Dad
(Jack and Seamus too)

Stephanie Bishop

We hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smile, to the highest of your hopes, to the window of your opportunities, and to the most special places your heart has ever known. ...and if you get the chance to sit it out or dance, we hope you dance. You make us so proud. We love you.

*Love,
Mom, Dad, Jason, and Brian.*

Julie Hugunin

"Thursday's child has far to go." Yet , turn around and look how far you've come. You have worked so hard, come, so far, achieved so much in school. We are so proud of you and filled with happiness for you and great expectations for your future.
